

SKYSCAPES: RØA

Skyscapes: Røa

Jon Gorospe was commissioned to provide artwork for the stairways of the Community House West (Røa). Taking inspiration from the world's most ancient cave paintings in France and Spain, where hand-prints from 26,000 BC express something universal yet anonymous, the work highlights the obvious parallels between contemporary social media and prehistoric social art.

Gorospe sampled sections from various Instagram posts showing the sky above Røa in Oslo through the seasons and hours under different weather conditions, from sunrise to sunset. The tagged geolocalization being #Røa, Oslo.

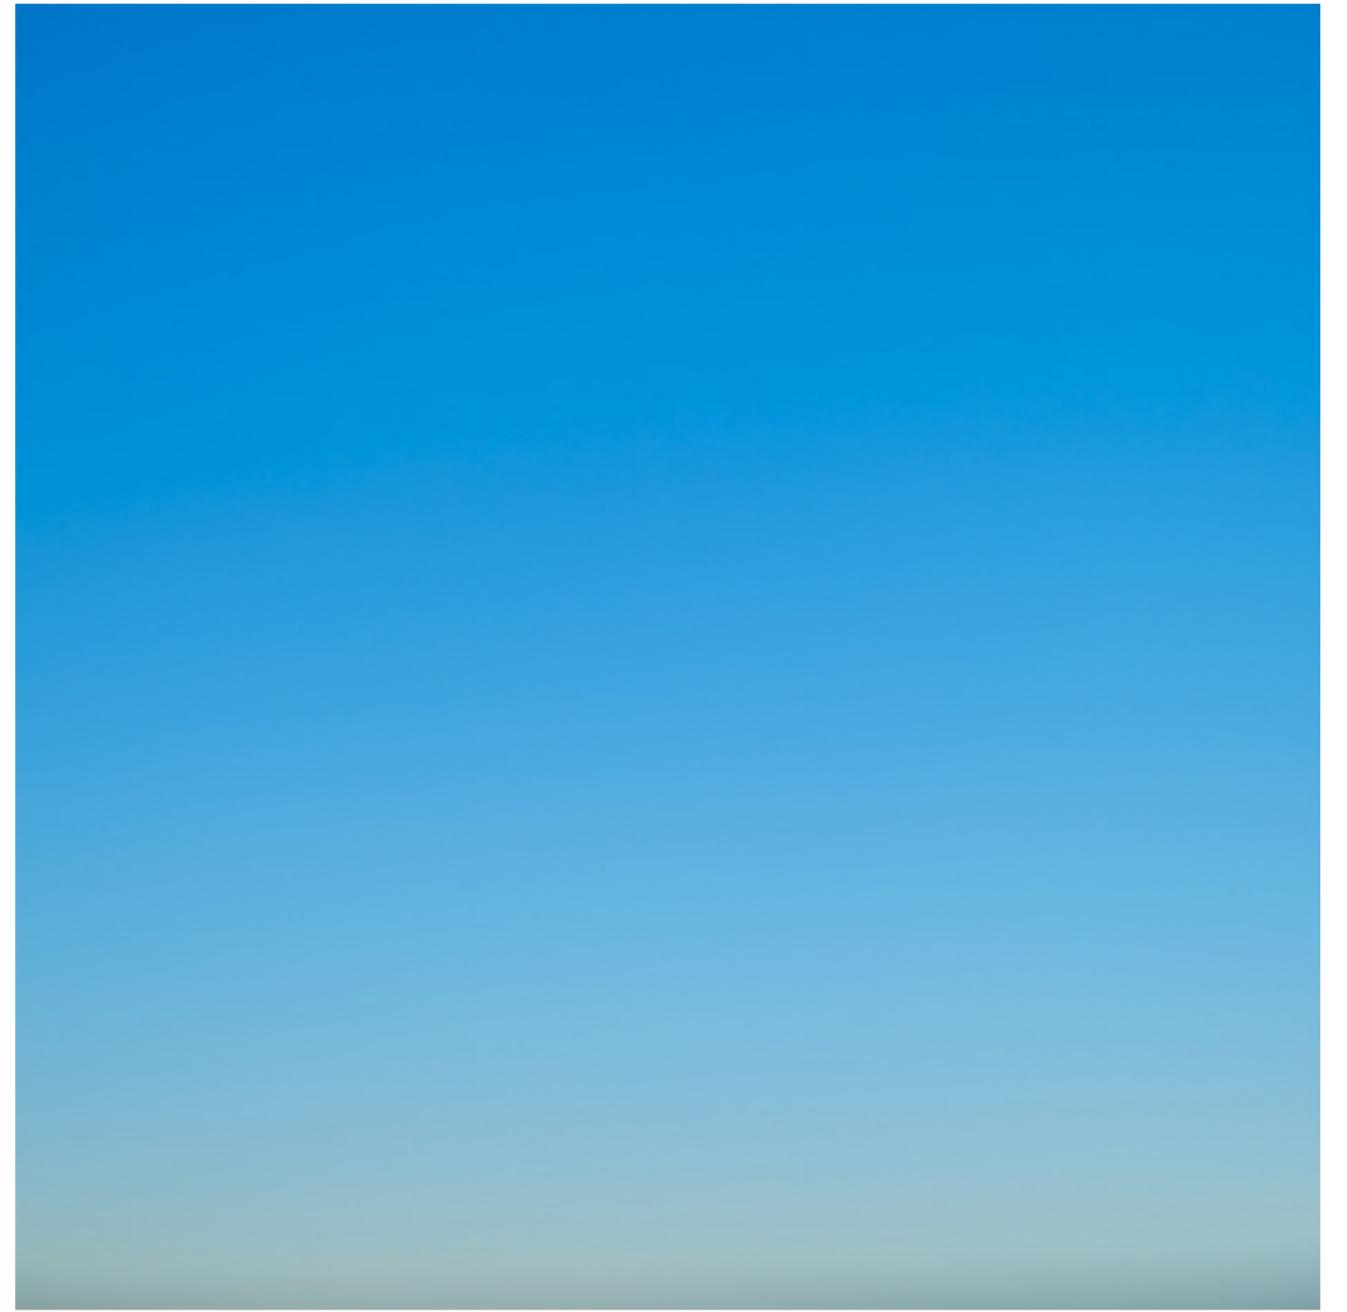

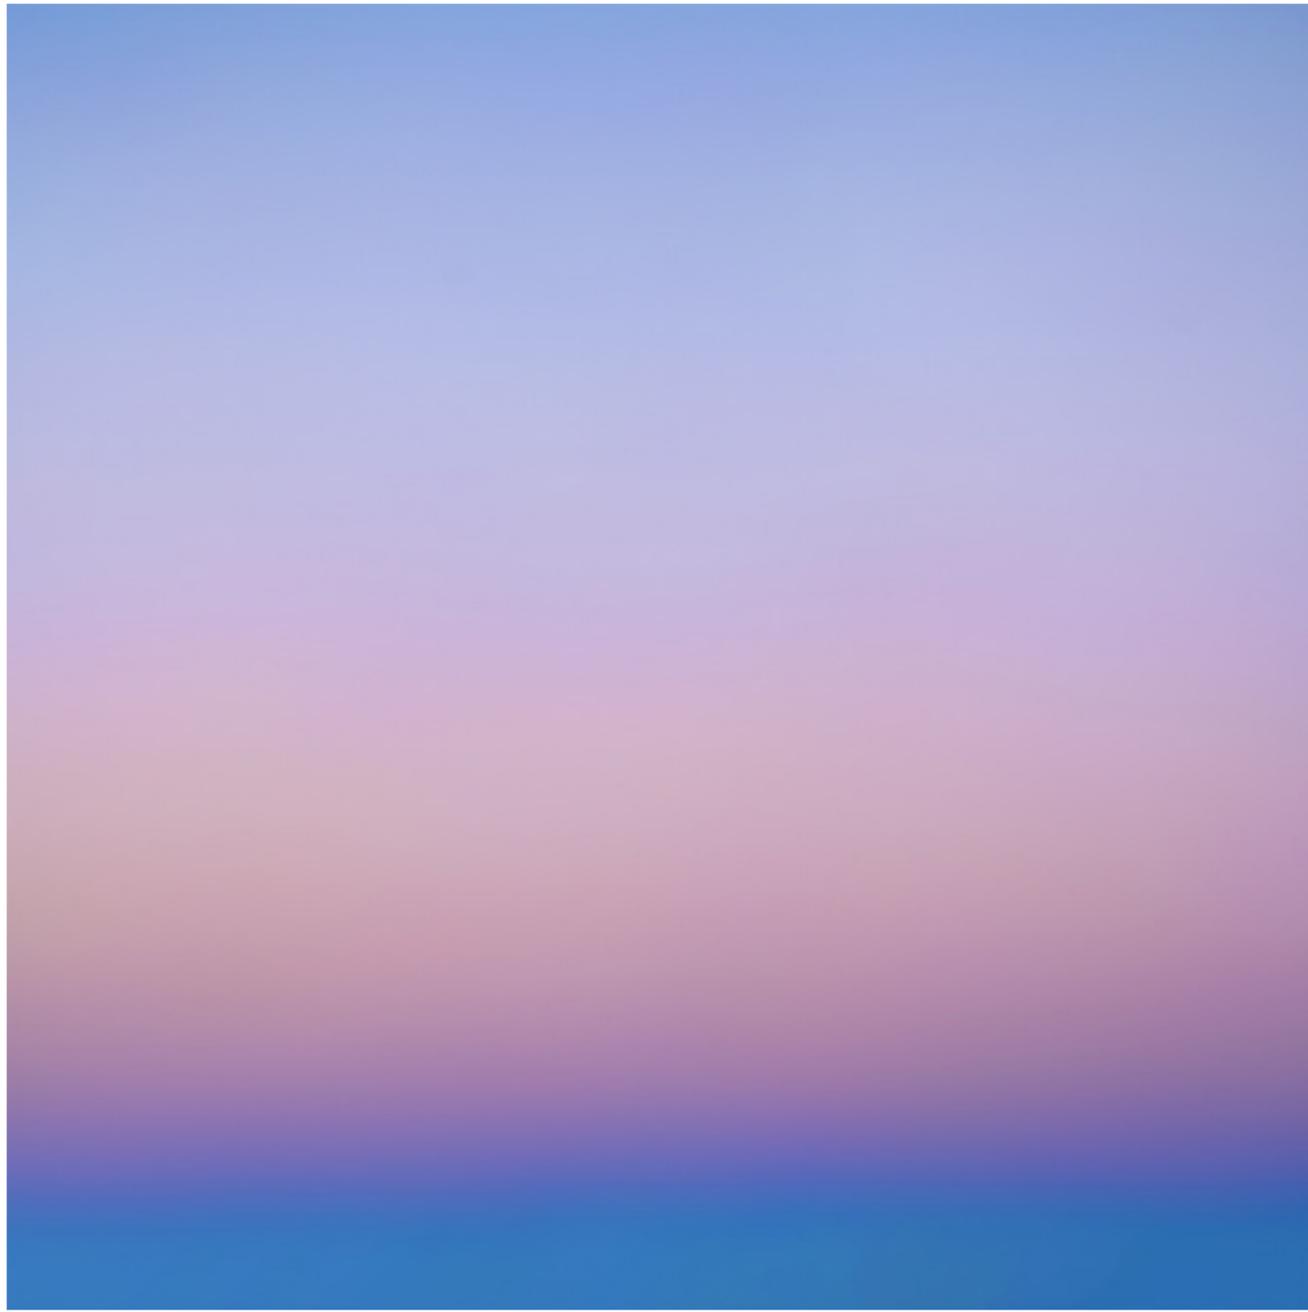

The artist has produced an interesting and democratic art installation which connects the floors of the building in a contemporary way using historical references. By using LED-illuminated prints in custom-made lightboxes, the artist has delivered an intelligent and aesthetically solid solution for the stairways.

We are grateful for receiving the assignment and congratulate Samfunnshus Vest for the artwork.
